

Consulting with Dr. Yanuck

Brief Bio

I began studying immunology in 2001. Cogence® Immunology, the online functional immunology course that I launched in 2016, reflects over two decades of immunology study and clinical experience. 9,000+ clinicians around the world have studied the Cogence course. About 50% of my time is now spent in immunology study and consulting. I also treat patients at the Yanuck Center for Life & Health and I'm an adjunct assistant professor in the Program on Integrative Medicine at the UNC School of Medicine.

My Goals for Our Interactions

My first priority is to understand the case you're concerned about and to provide you with detailed recommendations that match the case correctly and lead to robust improvement. I want to do this as efficiently as possible, while also giving you enough information that you will understand the basis for each recommendation, so you can explain it to your patient.

My second priority is to provide you with insights about the causes of your patients' immunological problems, so you're able to take the insights from the consultation and apply them to other patients. Clinicians who understand key points of clinical discernment in functional immunology achieve more remarkable outcomes with their most difficult cases.

How Consultations Work

1. Fill out the second page of this document with information about the case you're interested in discussing. If you want guidance on an issue not related to a particular case, or a topic that crosses several cases, briefly describe your questions. Fill out and sign the third page, which covers the terms of this and subsequent consultations. Please update if the information changes. Fax both pages to (919) 401-9900.
2. You are welcome to send more information ahead for me to look at during the consultation. You can write a narrative of the case, send lab results, etc. If lab results are voluminous, please summarize them, so we don't spend the whole hour sifting through records. Narrative, labs, etc. should be emailed to staff@yanuckcenter.com.
3. Call my clinic at (919)401-9500 or email staff@yanuckcenter.com to set up a time for your consultation. List your cell number below, in case I need to text when your session starts.
4. You will need a computer with a microphone and a webcam. At your consultation time, I will send you an email with an invitation to a ZOOM online session. At the time of the appointment, follow the link in the email to start the Zoom session. You'll be able to see my computer screen, so I can show you diagrams that will increase your understanding and clarity about what we're discussing. I will record the session and send you a link to the video afterwards. Please remind me to record the session in case I don't start the recording right away when we first connect.
